They are hidden in plain sight, obscured behind brambles and weeds, lurking in our own backyards. The stone chambers sit quietly, waiting. They promote an air of intrigue. Who built them? How old are they? And why such an enigmatic surrounding culture? Enter the mysterious world of the stone chambers. Explore their possible origins, dive into the paranormal connection, and discover a puzzling past. Truth is stranger than fiction.

Renée Fleury is the founder of Keltic Energy Paranormal Research and Investigation (KEPRI). She has been interested in paranormal investigation and archaeology for as long as she can remember. Her extensive research on the stone chambers has led to many interesting connections and experiences. Join her with Putnam After Dark as we explore one of the Hudson Valley's oldest mysteries!
